I do not believe hockey will be given up. In fact the committee intends to bring up the question of building a rink on South Field—a plan that was advanced last year and reported upon unfavorably.

COLUMBIA WON'T DROP HOCKEY.

But There Is Possibility of Abolish-

Harry Fisher, graduate manager Harry Fisher, graduate manager of Columbia athletics, said yesterday that there was some truth in the report that Columbia was considering the abolishing of the gymnastic team, but denied that hockey would be stricken from the minor sport calendar also. Fisher said that the committee on athletics would meet this week in order to decide the fate of the symnastic team.

Flushing's football team swamped Cur-s. 27 to 0, on Curtis Field, New Brighton, yesterday morning. Both teams were evenly matched in weight, but Flushing outclassed its rivals in play. Both lines were weak, especially that of Curtis, and it was always one of the backfield men that finally brought the opposition down. On numerous occasions the Flushing backs would carry the ball right through the line for gains of ten and fifteen yards. Reimann and Cochran played stellar games for the Wolverines. All of these men picked up fumbles and gave Michigan scoring chances.

In the first quarter after a penalty on Michigan and a fumble, Cody drop-kicked a goal from the 25 yard line. Before the period ended, however, Michigan swept down the field in a sensational dash. Hughitt made the touch down and kicked the goal.

In the second period, despite the pouring rain, Splawn dropkicked a goal from the 23 yard line and Maulbetsch went across for a touchdown. The thirst period was in a drenching rain, with the field a sea of mud. Neither team scored, fumbles being the rule. In the final stanza, after four fumbles near the Vanderbilt goal, Maulbetsch went over and Hughitt kicked the goal. The lineup:

What $1250 Ought to Buy in an Automobile

O-DAY $1250 has a big buying power in an automobile. It has as much buying power as $1500 had a year ago, and $1750 had two years ago. It buys a car better than those priced at $3000 four years ago.

$1250 buys a car with every modern improvement - electric starting. electric lighting, power driven tire pump, demountable rims, one man top, rain vision windshield, long wheel base, wide seats, genuine hand-buffed leather upholstery, stream lines, coach finished in 22 painting operations, low running board, wide doors, quick-acting storm curtains, superior hardware, concealed locks, vacuum feed gasolene system, high speed high efficiency motor, full floating rear axle — in fact every modern and accepted feature on any car, no matter what the price. When we say $1250 we refer to the 1915 Mitchell Light Four. It is the lowest priced car in the quality zone. If you did not know the price and could have seen a car exactly like this three years ago a price of $2000 would have made you reach quickly for your cheque

This Mitchell Car has a 116 inch wheel base. which means the riding comfort that goes with wheel base, and plenty of knee room. The rear seat is 53 inches wide, which means comfort to three good sized persons. We do not know of any car that is wider.

Power it has - 36 H.P. to carry 3000 lbs. of weight-which means most any hill on high.

We do not believe it is wise to go below 3000 lbs. because we would sooner be "safe than sorry." So we say "light weight - but safety first."

100 or 200 lbs. less in weight means little in economy. Where economy enters is in even distribution of weight. There is less than 5% difference
